

I've always enjoyed cutting things in half.

"This new teamwork approach along with the WonderWorks and Ektrix software has really streamlined our way of doing things. We're enhancing product development now with the tools and processes in place to do more. Being more involved than before, I take pride in having direct input in reducing the overall development timeline by 50%."

John Mooreland,
Project Engineer
Carrollton, Texas

"It's wonderful working in a progressive environment

like this. As John can attest, engaging in simultaneous design, procurement, and manufacturing really does create a more productive environment. Sure, in the past, we've encountered some difficulties, but now our entire approach to getting products to market faster has never been more streamlined."

Ed Mann
Manufacturing Manager
Carrollton

Our Vision "We are creating a more productive environment in which our entire organization works together simultaneously to wisely and efficiently develop products faster in bringing them to market. Halliburton Energy Services vigorously supports this new environment and welcomes the challenge." L J Roberts, VP Technology
